House Resolution No. 18.

A resolution to declare February 22-28, 2015, as Family Medicine Week in the state of Michigan.

Whereas, Michigan’s family physicians have historically demonstrated their dedication to the health and well-being of this state’s citizens by emphasizing the family and providing care to all patients; and

Whereas, Family physicians have studied for a minimum of seven years from medical school through residency and have received specialized training to provide primary care and medical treatment for the families of this state; and

Whereas, This care is based on knowledge of the whole person in the context of the family and the community, and is not limited by age, sex, race, religion, or type of health problem; and

Whereas, Michigan’s family medicine practices provide high quality care and reduce costs to the health care system through leadership, collaboration, and innovation; and

Whereas, Family physicians play a crucial role in ensuring the optimal health of families across the state; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives That the members of this legislative body declare February 22-28, 2015, as Family Medicine Week in the state of Michigan. We support a robust, primary-care based health care system and recognize the key role family physicians play in making Michigan healthy; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Michigan Academy of Family Physicians and the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Family Physicians with our highest esteem.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution,

The resolution was adopted.

Reps. Driskell, Dillon, Irwin, Dianda, LaVoy, Rutledge, Pagel, Victory, Brett Roberts, Talabi, Darany, Garrett, Brunner, Pagan, Robinson, Geiss, Greig, Cochran, Gay-Dagnogo, Byrd, Plawecki, Brinks, Chang, Moss and Kosowski offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 19.

A resolution to urge the Congress of the United States to normalize relations with the Cuban government and lift the current embargo and other trade barriers with the Republic of Cuba.

Whereas, For more than five decades, the United States has maintained, through the most comprehensive set of economic sanctions levied against any nation, a strict embargo with the Republic of Cuba. Through various federal acts, regulations, and presidential orders, like the Cuban Liberty and Democratic Solidarity Act of 1996 and Trade Sanction Reform and Export Act of 2000 (TSRA), the embargo places significant restrictions and prohibitions on American-Cuban relationships, notably on trade, travel, and financial transactions; and

Whereas, U.S. laws and regulations make American exports to Cuba difficult and burdensome, when not outright prohibited. Under provisions from the TSRA and export regulations from the Department of Commerce, U.S. food and agricultural entities are legally permitted to export to the island nation, but doing so requires prior permission from the Department of Commerce and compliance with numerous federal export regulations. Despite the ability to legally export, financial restrictions limit the ability of American entities to competitively serve the market, allowing international competitors—competitors from democratic nations like Canada, Brazil, Argentina, and the European Union not burdened with these restrictions—to capitalize off potential U.S. market share; and

Whereas, Relaxing restrictions and prohibitions on U.S. exports to Cuba will present new opportunities to grow our nation’s agricultural sector and create jobs in rural communities across the U.S. Moreover, improved trade with Cuba will help continue the tremendous momentum of U.S. agricultural exports, which topped $152 billion in fiscal year 2014, setting a new record, and provide needed relief to our overall import-export deficit; and

Whereas, The Republic of Cuba, home to more than 11 million consumers in close proximity to the U.S., is a logical target for expanded U.S. food and agricultural exports. Normalizing trade relations between the U.S. and Cuba will enhance Cuban citizens’ access to affordable food while providing the U.S. farm and business community with new market access opportunities. Normalized trade will drive growth in both countries and allow U.S. farmers, ranchers, and food companies to efficiently contribute to the food security needs of the Cuban citizenry; and

Whereas, Ending the American embargo against Cuba will boost the Cuban economy and lead to an improved quality of life for the Cuban people. Through Congressional action, breaking down the barriers between Americans and Cubans will expand diplomatic relations, travel, partnerships, and trade, allowing all citizens the opportunity to discover and reconnect on mutual interests, benefiting Cubans and Americans alike; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we urge the Congress of the United States to normalize relations with the Cuban government and lift the current embargo and other trade barriers with the Republic of Cuba; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Commerce and Trade.

Reps. Potvin, Geiss, Howrylak, Singh, Kelly, LaVoy, Aaron Miller, Johnson, Liberati, Heise, Hughes, Tedder, Lauwers and Jenkins offered the following resolution:

House Resolution No. 20.

A resolution to encourage the Michigan Department of Education to allow local school districts the option to hold fundraisers, such as bake sales, during school hours that involve food that may not meet the new federal school nutrition standards.

Whereas, The federal government has imposed new Smart Snacks in School standards requiring schools to offer healthier snack foods to students. The standards apply to all foods and beverages sold to students during the school day, including food in vending machines, school stores, snack carts, and à la carte food lines; and

Whereas, Food sold through in-school fundraising is also regulated. Because only foods that meet the smart snack standards can be sold in-school, reliable bake sales and other fund raisers will be eliminated. Many food-based fundraisers are time-honored traditions used year after year to raise funds for school activities, annual class trips, and charitable causes; and

Whereas, The United States Department of Agriculture allows each state to determine if a set number of in-school, food fundraisers will be exempt from the Smart Snacks standards. Twenty-one states allow exemptions for in-school fundraising with the number allowed ranging from one to thirty. States that allow exemptions are giving local school districts greater control over their fundraising activities and ability to determine what fundraising is appropriate in any given school; and

Whereas, Unfortunately, the Michigan Department of Education has declined to allow exemptions in Michigan. The refusal to allow exemptions takes away the opportunity for our locally elected school boards and local school administrators to determine which in-school food fundraisers are appropriate for their communities to fund class activities and trips; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That we encourage the Michigan Department of Education to allow local school districts the option to hold fundraisers, such as bake sales, during school hours that involve food that may not meet the new federal school nutrition standards; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the state Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Education.
